100,000 WATCH HUGE DALY CITY PARADE

Two-And-One-Half Hour Event Opened Daly City's 50th Golden Anniversary Celebration

More than 100,000 people Saturday lined Mission Street in Daly City to watch the biggest parade ever staged in San Mateo County.

The two-and-one-half hour parade kicked off the Daly City Golden Anniversary Celebration which will run through the week and end Saturday night with a Grand Ball.

The Capuchino High School Band of San Bruno and the St. Mary's Chinese Girls Drum Corps showed the same precision that won them coveted spots in President Kennedy's inauguarl parade and marched off with first place trophies.

Best posse award went to the San Francisco Sheriff's Posse and first place trophy for the most outstanding mounted group went to the Shriners Islam Mounted Patrol.

The city of San Bruno won the top honors in the municipal floats division with a beautifully decorated setting for a bevy of beautiful girls bearing greetings to Daly City.

A flower laden float by the Daly City Hi-Fi Teen Club won the first place trophy in the amateur float competition.

There were 130 units in the two-mile line of march which was headed by Jay Alexander, Marshal "J" of KPX and grand marshal of the parade.

Official representatives from San Mateo County and from most of the county's cities joined Daly City dignitaries in the reviewing stands in front of Jefferson High School.

Thousands of spectators lined the streets at the "top of the hill" Saturday night to watch a spectacular fireworks display.

On Sunday morning, the faithful attended special religious services in the city's churches.

A Festival of Music, put on by the Daly City Ministerial Association at the War Memorial Community Center Sunday evening, drew more than 500 spectators and a crowd of 700 watched a baseball game between the Fire Department and a team made up of other city employees in Marchbanks Park in the afternoon.

Two Surviving Kin Of John Daly Present Flag To City of D. C.

563 Jefferson Drive,
Palo Alto, Calif.

Mr. Arthur J. Bodien,
Chairman Golden
Anniversary Committee,
144 Hillside Drive,
Daly City, Calif.

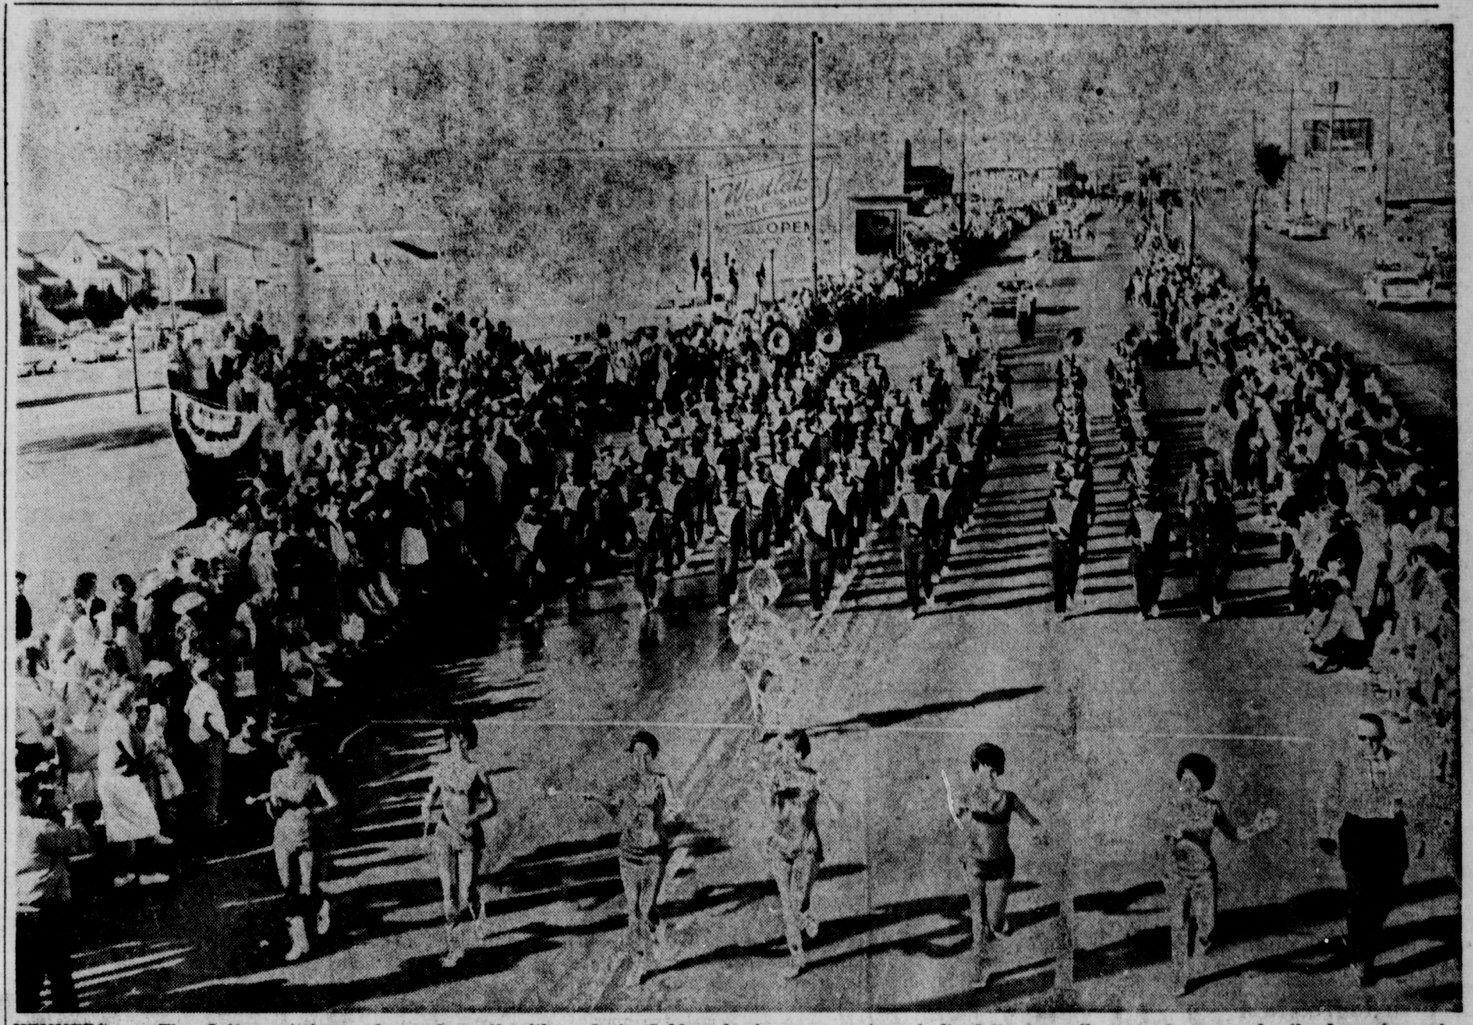
Dear Mr. Bodien:

As the two surviving daugters of John Donald Daly, we wish to send our congratulations to the city bearing his name as its 50th Anniversary is being celebrated.

We well remember the days of the 1906 earthquake, when our father opened his fields to the homeless campers and supplied milk for all. Before the bricks had cooled or the streets were passable in San Francisco, figuring there were women and children in hospitals who needed milk, he sent a supply on one of his wagons. The first one was confiscated for the transportation the horses provided. The following wagons went with a Red Cross nurse beside the driver and were unmolested. The American Red Cross in Washington, D. C., has a complete record of his service at that time, given with no thought of recomponse.

It is good to know that from the ranch of a benevolent, public spirited man has risen the city of homes holding this Golden Anniversary celebration. We join with you in it and in commemorating our father's memory by presenting this flag to the citizens of Daly City.

Yours truly,
MRS. MINNIE E. CARSON
MRS. LILLIE I. GEORGE



WINNERS — The Jefferson High School band passes in review and marches off with a second place trophy in Saturday's Golden Anniversary parade. An estimated 100,000 people lined the two-mile route to watch the two and one half hour parade, the largest event of its kind ever staged in the area.

CITY STUDIES JOINT CIVIL DEFENSE PLAN

Daly City Councilmen are studying a joint powers agreement on civil defense in which city and county would cooperate in a civil defense program.

The request for the agreement with Daly City was submitted by San Mateo County supervisor James V. Fitzgerald, chairman of the San Mateo County Civil Defense Disaster and Planning Board.

A mayor or city councilman would represent a city on a civil defense and disaster board. "We envision that the Cities would be responsible for police protection and the county would be responsible for any mass evacuation," Phillip Brown, assistant city manager and deputy director of civil defense said.

Brown explained the proposed system:

"Say we are severely hit by an explosion and looting becomes an intense problem. The area coordinator would bring in units from other cities. We would do the same thing for other cities if a disaster occurs.

Building inspectors in San Mateo County have held a series of meetings attempting to develop two types of shelters, community and a home shelter. Plans are being prepared.

"The ultimate goal, I think, is to develop community shelters. Individual shelters are quite expensive — not enough protection for enough people."

CITY DEPARTMENTS

Brown said the police and fire department in case of an emergency or disaster would do the following:

Fire department would be responsible for fire supression, rescue operations, instruction and training of rescue personnel and establishing routes to use for their own equipment. They are responsible for determining levels of radiation in the area and in training first aid.

Police Department is primarily responsible for law enforcement, and traffic control, but also has a communications radio operation contact with other cities and is responsible for receipt and transmission of civil defense warnings.

Warnings come from the "bell and light" system. This is a series of lights and bells activated from Hamilton Air Force Base. If a missile or attack is launched, radar transmited information is released and Daly City will receive an alert yellow light flash and a bell would ring in the police department. Thirty long horn blasts would sound the warning.

If information came in that the attack was less than 30 minutes from our coast we would get a red alert — 30 very short and rapid blasts.

A blue alert means civil defense organizations should prepare themselves because an attack will be coming in a week or so.

SCHOOLS ALERT

Edward Morgan, Supt. of the Jefferson Union High School District, said "if a disaster struck, the schools would probably be better equipped to handle it because of the students' continuous training."

The high schools, he said, have at least one fire drill a month. In the earthquake of March, 1957, students evacuated Jefferson High School in 92 seconds, he said.

Morgan is of the opinion that the federal government should assist in both community and school shelter and civil defense organizations.

He added that the matter of mass evacuation for schools is physically impossible. If busses were needed for hauling away high school students the district would need 61 busses. New busses cost $20,000 apiece.

Each high school has a full time certified nurse. Schools by law are required to teach health and first aid.

Fire Horns To Undergo Test

The Daly City Fire Department will be testing air horns in different locations in the city for the next two weeks. The horns, which are used to alert volunteers and call off duty men, will be tested for uniform coverage throughout the city, Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy said.

The test will be conducted by Batallion Chief Wayne Alexander, Captain Charles Marshal and Captain Richard May.

Friday The 13th Will Highlight "Fiesta Days"

Friday the 13th . . . the one that comes up this week . . . is going to be a real lucky one for some of the fortunate people who attend Westlake's big Fiesta Days drawing.

On that night, Friday the 13th, at 9:15 p.m., in the Shopping Court at Westlake, Sr. Adolfo Domingues, Counsel General of the Republic of Mexico, will reach into the huge Westlake drawing barrel and select the winning tickets which will send two pairs of winners on a vacation tour of Mexico.

In addition to the four Mexican vacation trips which are being given away, there will also be a week-end at Las Vegas for two and five Western Air lines flight bags, packed with champagne, which will also be awarded.

Winners of the Mexican vacations will fly via Western Airlines 720-B Fanjets to Mexico City, where they will be put up at the luxurious Prado Alfer hotel. They will enjoy bull fights, sight seeing; the floating gardens of Xochimilco; horse racing at the Hipodrome de las Americas; jai lai games and a cocktail party at a Mexican home.

After Mexico City they will go to Cuernevaca, the famed resort town of wealthy Mexicans and on to picturesque Taxco, where they will stay at the beautiful de la Borda hotel, high on a hill overlooking the town, dotted with its unique red tiled roof buildings.

After Taxco, the vacationists will go on to Acapulco, to stay at the lovely Encano hotel on the Afternoon Beach. The Encano is one of Acapulco's luxury hotels, recently opened by Caesar Belsa. While in Acapul-

Grand Ball Sat. Night Will Be Final Event For Largest Celebration Ever

The largest community-sponsored celebration ever undertaken on the Peninsula, the Daly City Golden Jubilee, will wind up Saturday night with a grand ball at the War Memorial Community Center.

The ball will feature the music of Jack Martens and his orchestra and a grand march led by city officials and officers of the Golden Anniversary Celebration Committee.

A highlight of the evening will be the crowning of the King and Queen of the Golden Anniversary Bowling Tournament now under way at Swanson's Westlake Bowl and the presenting of trophies to the winners of the beard and moustache contest.

Tickets for the event are on sale throughout the city at $1 each and also may be obtained from Ed Tomasello, chairman of the grand ball, at the Recreation Department, 144 Hillside Boulevard, PL 5-0850.

Meanwhile, a number of other events continued to follow the crowd shattering precedent set by Saturday's parade which drew an estimated 100,000 spectators from throughout the San Francisco Bay Area.

Capacity crowds turned out for the Festival of Music at the War Memorial Community Center on Sunday night and the musical program by Romero's Music Studio on Monday night and the Old-Time Vaudeville Show on Tuesday night met with similar successes.

At 8 p. m. Wednesday (tonight) the San Francisco State College will present a salute to Daly City in words and music featuring the San Francisco State Symphonic Band.

This program was scripted in cooperation with the Radio and TV Department under the general direction of the Creative Arts Department of the college.

Top amateur and professional golfers from throughout the area will participate in the Golden Anniversary Open Golf Tournament at Lake Merced Golf and Country Club on Thursday.

Peter Markovich, chairman of the event, said more than 180 golfers are expected to participate.

Tickets, including green fee and dinner, are $15 each.

At 1 p. m. Thursday, there will be a fashion show by the YWCA of Northern San Mateo County and the North San Mateo County Girl Scout Council in the Westlake Mall.

The show, "Anniversary Fashions," will feature the showing of old-time Girl Scout uniforms and commentary will be by Miss Mona Baker.

At 8 p. m. Thursday, the Shipley-Smith School of Dance will present a dance revue at the War Memorial Community Center.

At 8 p. m. Friday, the El Camino Reelers will present a Folk Dance Festival at the Community Center, and at noon Saturday more than 400 Girl Scouts and Brownies will present a Folk Festival in the Westlake Mall.

The Grand Ball will begin at 9 p. m. and will continue until 1 a. m. In addition to the other special events that evening, a sterling silver bowl will be presented to the winner of the Golden Anniversary Home Garden contest.

Garden Tools Are Attention Getters

Water in the garden has a timeless appeal. It is the historic symbol of peace and contentment, sought after in Asia and Europe alike, centuries before the dawn of modern landscape design. Witness the gardens of Imperial Japan, the elaborate installations of Moorish Spain and the fountains of ancient Rome.

Whether at rest or in motion, water can be the center of attention in the garden. A pool, a fountain, a waterfall — even a birdbath can make the garden more pleasant, provided of course, that the proper plants are used in conjunction with it.

If you would like to install a pool in your garden, ask a member of the California Association of Nurserymen for advice. He can help you not only with the planting around the pool, but with the actual plan for one as well. If running water is part of your plans, he can order a small circulating pump that will make it possible. And if the decorative, artificial bowl-fountains seen so often in the garden shows are desired, he can furnish those, too.

The true beauty of any garden pool, however, derives not so much from the design, as in the planting that surrounds it — from the way you fit it into your landscape. Whether grass grows right up to the pool's edge or whether intricate plant patterns are devised makes no difference so long as the plan is well conceived. And here, your nurseryman can do the most for you. Material is plentiful. It's a matter of fitting the right plants to the right pool.

Consideration should be given to the reflective value of shrubs planted on the margin of a pool. Imagine the reflected beauty of a Bird of Paradise plant, for instance. Or of the many good tall garden Lilies, or of Daylilies. Non-blooming shrubs such as Heavenly Bamboo, Paper Reed and Rhapis Palm also have reflective value.

Planting the pool can be a hobby in itself, but don't be overzealous. Remember that you have a pool mainly to see water close at hand, and overplanting can defeat your purpose. Better a margin of grass only than one which hides the view.

the Commercial Garden Display featuring a complete outdoor mountain scene and $50,000 worth of plants at Palmcrest drive and Southgate avenue; the stagecoach rides for children between 3:30 p. m. and 7 p. m. daily at the Westlake Shopping Center; the daily exhibitions in gun handling and shooting by quick-draw artist Frank James and the Armed Forces exhibit in the Westlake Shopping Center parking lot.

Sisterhood Talk On Parochial School Aid

On Tuesday, Oct. 24 at 8 p.m. the Sisterhood Ner Tamid will have an open meeting. It will be held at the Temple Ner Tamid, Quintara and 22nd streets. Special guest for the evening will be Earl Raab, associate director of the Jewish Community Relations Council. His subject, "Aid to Parochial Schools."

Husbands, friends and relatives are invited. A question and answer period will follow Raab's talk, and refreshments will be served.

THE SOCIAL advantages of adding another trophy to his list of accomplishments is explained to his prize-winning bloodhound, No-Mo-Po Cavieye, by Emil A. Hercsuth. The dog will compete in the Golden Anniversary purebred dog show being sponsored by the Westlake Kennel Club at Daly City's Marchbank Park, October 21.

co they will cruise Acapulco Bay; see the Hi-Divers at La Quebrada cliffs and witness the Holiday on Skis show.

Other events are scheduled for Westlake Shopping Center too, as a part of "Fiesta Days" . . . There will be strolling mariachi musicians in the shopping center on Wednesday and Friday afternoons and evenings. The YWCA in conjunction with the 50th Anniversary program of Daly City, will put on a fashion show on Thursday afternoon in the Shopping Court commencing at 2:15.

On Friday afternoon "La Cantina Grande" will be opened to the mall, and from it will be served refreshments to the first 5,000 guests who visit the shopping center.

Meanwhile Westlake Shopping Center is decked out in gala colors; many of the merchants will be seen wearing Mexican hats and the music system throughout the center will be playing Mexican music for the balance of the week.

But the biggest event will be Lucky Friday the 13th, at 9:15 p.m. when the vacations to Mexico are drawn. Tickets for the drawing are available now at any store in Westlake Shopping Center.

America's Largest Radio Telescope 'Dish' Erected On Stanford Campus

America's biggest radio telescope "dish" has been erected on the Stanford University campus.

Riggers used two large cranes for the delicate job of easing the 70-ton, 150-foot steel-and-aluminum parabolic antenna into place on its mount after removing pie-shaped sections to get a better grip on it. These sections and the big center tripod will be replaced later. Scientists hope to use the dish for radar and radio explorations of the solar system before the end of the year.

The Stanford dish, a $350,000 research instrument designed and built by Stanford Research Institute scientists under support of the Air Force Office of Aerospace Research and the Defense Atomic Agency, is the first of three such radio telescopes in the U. S.

The Air Force will shortly raise another at its own Sagamore Hill Radio Astronomy Observatory in Massachusetts. The Navy is readying still another on the Virginia coast. All are SRI-designed and built.

Beside the Stanford dish stands a huge 20-55 megacycle radio transmitter operated by University scientists with support of the Air Force Cambridge Research Laboratories. The transmitter's million-watt input will give the dish a 300-400 Kilowatt radar probe with which to explore the sun, moon, and interplanetary gases.

Mounted, the near-half-acre aluminum mesh surface of the dish will stand 160 feet at its highest and can point to any sector of the heavens.

Because of the joint SRI-Stanford project's importance to radio and radar astronomy, Stanford trustees passed a special resolution exempting it from their long-standing ban on visible structures among the University's foothills.

A giant 600-foot dish in West Virginia has been under construction for several years by the Navy. The world's largest at present is a 250-foot dish at Jodrell Bank in England.

Terra Nova Sports Briefs

Terra Nova's Tigers, still reeling under the euphoria of playing their first varsity football season in new uniforms for a new school sans home field (it will be ready after football season has ended), dropped their initial league encounter (second seasonal game) to Jefferson Oct. 6 31-7.

But it was better than the 37-0 licking they receipted for against Woodside in the opener, and all because John Cook scored a touchdown and Dennis Carruthers booted an extra point.

Outlook? "We're improving," says coach Floyd Gonella.

On the positive side of the ledger, Terra Nova's hot cross country team, one of the best in the Peninsula Athletic League, bounced back from a loss to Mills in its first league meet to whip South San Francisco, 21-36.

Jim Beeler reeled off a first place finish with Clint Miller and Bob Hernandez running 3-4.

In lightweight basketball, Coach Rich Burt's boys, who don't have any uniforms at all (they're on their way), still manage to bring the margins of their weekly losses gradually down.

"The boys hustle and improve weekly," says Burt. "One of these days they're going to surprise someone — and it won't be me. It'll be an opponent."

—OFF AND RUNNING by John I. Day—

More For Glory Than For Gold

A primary requirement for membership in Thoroughbred Racing Associations, Inc., one might suppose, would be that the applicant had a race track. However, one of TRA's 46 members is the trackless United Hunts Racing Association which nevertheless sponsors some 26 days of Hunt racing and borrows Belmont Park for a 2-day meeting of its own each October. Amory L. Haskell, president of Monmouth Park and a Director and past president of TRA, is the current head of the UHRA which held its first meeting at New York's now defunct Morris Park in 1905. It was the United Hunts that kept racing alive in New York during the Governor Hughes hiatus of 1911-12. The UHRA today boasts 1,600 odd members, aficianados of steeplechasing in all parts of the world. It's "big" 2-day meeting at Belmont Park features the richest steeplechase in America, the $50,000 Temple Gwathmey Handicap, named for one of the UHRA founders. Profit from its two days of "professional" racing are put back into the sport which is conducted more for glory than for gold in North and South Carolina, Virginia, Maryland, Tennessee, Kentuucky, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and New York. The UHRA pays for insurance for every rider competing at a Hunt meeting, makes annual cash awards to riders and owners of top horses in racing over brush, hurdle and timber. UHRA success in stimulating interest in Hunt racing is evidenced by the fact that it no longer has to guarantee a minimum purse for the timber events.

LAW IN ACTION

EDUCATIONAL TRUSTS

You may help your children or grandchildren in their education through gifts, insurance, trusts, and your will.

For example, a recent California law allows you to give securities (stocks and bonds) to a child, for a custodian to hold and manage until the child comes of age.

Odds are a child's income is lower than yours; you may find he saves tax money by paying the tax on the income from your gifts to him such as stocks, bonds or real estate you turn over to him.

Or you may set up a trust fund for your children's education. One author has turned over his rights to some of his books, and the royalties flow into his grandchildren's educational trust fund.

For tax purposes such a trust should run for ten years or more.

Federal and state governments allow certain tax free gifts: The first $3,000—the "annual exclusion"—for example, or each giver's first $30,000 of all gifts—the "lifetime exemption."

The children must "possess, enjoy, and control" the gift at once or indirectly through trustees, guardians, or custodians. The donor (that's you) must give up control over the gift or the government will not regard it as a true gift and will tax you accordingly.

You may set up during life or upon death a personal trust which you can revoke or change as you like, as long as you live.

The law frowns upon "perpetuities"—i.e., trusts set up to go on and on without end.

Note: California lawyers offer this column so you may know about our laws.

Wild Lilacs Can Be Tamed For Garden Use

It's a miracle, no less, that our native plants even survive the long, hot months of California's dry season. And it's a miracle compounded that, having survived, they should bloom so profusely. But it happens every spring on our hillsides.

Among the loveliest of these miracles is Ceanothus — the wild lilac which adorns the hills with its lovely blue blossoms in late winter and spring. Of the many natives that can be tamed for garden use, it is probably the most widely used and versatile. As most of us know by now, the wild lilacs are not true lilacs.

The common name derives from the general shape and looks of the bloom. These are generally smaller than true lilacs but of similar appearance. They are largely in shades of blue, but an occasional white can also be found.

A wide variety of wild lilacs have been tamed and are offered to the public by members of the California Association of Nurserymen. Their versatility can be pointed up by the fact that some are ground covers, some are medium shrubs and others are trees.

The favorite ground cover, since it really hugs the ground, is the Point Reyes Creeper. This is a glossy leaved shrub with a distinctive hollylike shape to the leaves. Carmel Creeper is more shrubby, but still an excellent cover for waste spaces. It forms a dense growth about two feet high and some 6 to 10 feet in diameter.

Of the more shrublike wild lilies, the hybrids Sierra Blue, Mountain Haze and Julia Phelps, are profuse bloomers and generally larger of bloom than those taken directly from nature. Hybridization has not robbed them of their rugged indifference to cultural demands, however.

The View From ...Behind The Badge

THE BOGEY MAN — In recent years parents sometimes admonished a misbehaving child with a statement something like this: "Johnny, if you don't behave, I'm going to call a policeman and have him put you in jail."

By doing this, the parent had accomplished a two-fold purpose: (1) Johnny stopped misbehaving, and (2) Johnny resented, not the parent, but the unseen policeman "who would put him in jail." In effect, they have created a "bogey man."

As a result, Johnny often developed an unreasoning, but certainly justifiable, fear of all policemen. It is not likely, then, when Johnny found himself in trouble, or found himself lost in a strange neighborhood, that he would approach a policeman for assistance.

Johnny's mind is tuned to Mother and Dad; they would not lie to him. They have told him that the "officer" presumably any officer) would do him harm. The officer, therefore, is a person to be avoided at all costs.

Today, the police officer is a highly trained person, with a multiplicity of duties and varied interests. No police officer sets out with the idea of putting anyone in jail, much less Johnny or any other kid.

In the first place, the parent was wrong. If Johnny is a small boy, it would not be legal to put him in jail under any circumstances. If Johnny was at fault in some way, the officer would send him to a center for study and possible treatment. In no case, however, would the policemen arrest a child for simple misbehavior, The parent has grossly misrepresented the facts to his child, possibly with a resulting frame of mind that will endure for years — unreasoning, unreasonable fear of the policemen.

Instead, if the parents feel that the child needs some type of unofficial guidance, they will find that most communities have a recreation program, and that many Police Departments have entered some phase of the program.

Our local Police Athletic League is a prime example. With the assistance of merchants and interested citizens, off duty officers give their own time to such a program — as in managing a baseball team, for example.

The officers do this because they are interested in the children, and want the children to grow up friendly with the police, and, often, because they just plain enjoy working with the kids.

If Mom and Dad have a behavior problem with Johnny, they might do more for the boy to meet with the officer on the beat, and ask for a little help along these lines. The results will be better for Johnny.

Doctor To Tell Of Indonesia Travels On Hospital Ship

Dr. Norton Benner, Hillsborough physician and surgeon, whose practice is in San Mateo, served for three months (January through March of this year) on the staff of the Hospital Ship Hope.

The ship returned to San Fancisco on Sept. 13 after a year of providing medical treatment and knowledge to the people of Indonesia and Vietnam.

At a meeting in the Pacifica City Hall on Sunday evening, Oct. 15 at 8 p. m., Dr. Benner will tell of his own work on the Hope and show the Hope movie, in color, which was recently seen on television here. The meeting is sponsored by the Pacifica Unitarian Fellowshop. An offering will be taken to aid the future work of the Hope in other countries.

Dr. Benner, during his service on the Hope, also worked on a smaller steamer which visited the inner islands where the large ship could not go. With another doctor and two Indonesian doctors, he visited islands where no other white men had ever been.

Accompanied by Polynesian soldiers, they went among headhunters on the island of Ceram. At a leprosarium they delivered a supply of new drugs which are so effective that Dr. Benner believes leprosy could be wiped off these islands in ten years.

Adding to natural fears of modern methods used on the hospital ship, native Communists characteristically tried to sabotage its work by spreading rumors that people were dying there, "their hearts were being cut out," etc.

To overcome such fears the staff made personal contact with the people, and American doctors engaged their Indonesian colleagues in public sports events, such as tennis matches. The ship exhibits an award from the people of Kupang expressing appreciation for the sports program there.

The people-to-people contacts made by the Hope are at least as important, Dr. Benner feels, as the 700 major operations performed on board the ship and the medical technique taught to native doctors and students which will have lasting and growing value.

County Votes To Buy San Carlos Airport

San Mateo County supervisors have voted to buy the 71-acre San Carlos airport. The board authorized the district attorney to start condemnation proceedings with a starting point price tag of $1,390,000, which is the amount asked for by Cal-West Aviation Inc.

The deal calls for the county to pay down $344,000 cash of the $1,890,000 total. Cal West, assuming it is the lessee, will give the county an advanced rental credit of $300,000. The balance is expected to come from federal airport aid funds.

Cal-West, now in bankruptcy court, hopes to survive intact and operate the airport on a lease from the county, once the county has bought the land. The company, which has reorganized and fired Howard S. (Hap) Harper as president, also plans to continue development and ownership of such other projects at the airport as a motel, restaurant and marina.

Only Supervisor James V. Fitzgerald opposed the purchase. He said the county has too many other pressing financial needs to spend money on a third airport. Palo Alto and Half Moon Bay ports meet the county's obligations to fliers, he said.

Students Visit Strybing Arboretum

In connection with their science unit on "Leaves and Trees," two first grade classes from Abraham Lincoln Elementary School, with their teachers, Mrs. Arleen Byers and Mrs. Carole Gillis, visited Strybing Arboretum and Botanical Gardens in San Francisco Golden Gate Park on Monday, Oct. 9.

The classes went by bus from the school to the park, accompanied by Mrs. Herman Eck and Mrs. Lou Mendez, two of the class mothers. After viewing the many spots of interest in the park, the children lunched on the grass. Discussion of the project followed and many suggestions were offered for the continuation of the unit in the classroom.

The children have been collecting and classifying common leaves and studying the seasonal changes of local trees. This study has proven a stimulating basis for both science and art projects.

Westmoor High Construction Funds Okayed

The Jefferson Union High School Board of Trustees on Monday, Oct. 9, signed a contract with Martinelli Construction Co. of San Francisco for the $395,200 Westmoor High School project to include eight classrooms, five science rooms, two shops and a mechanical drawing room.

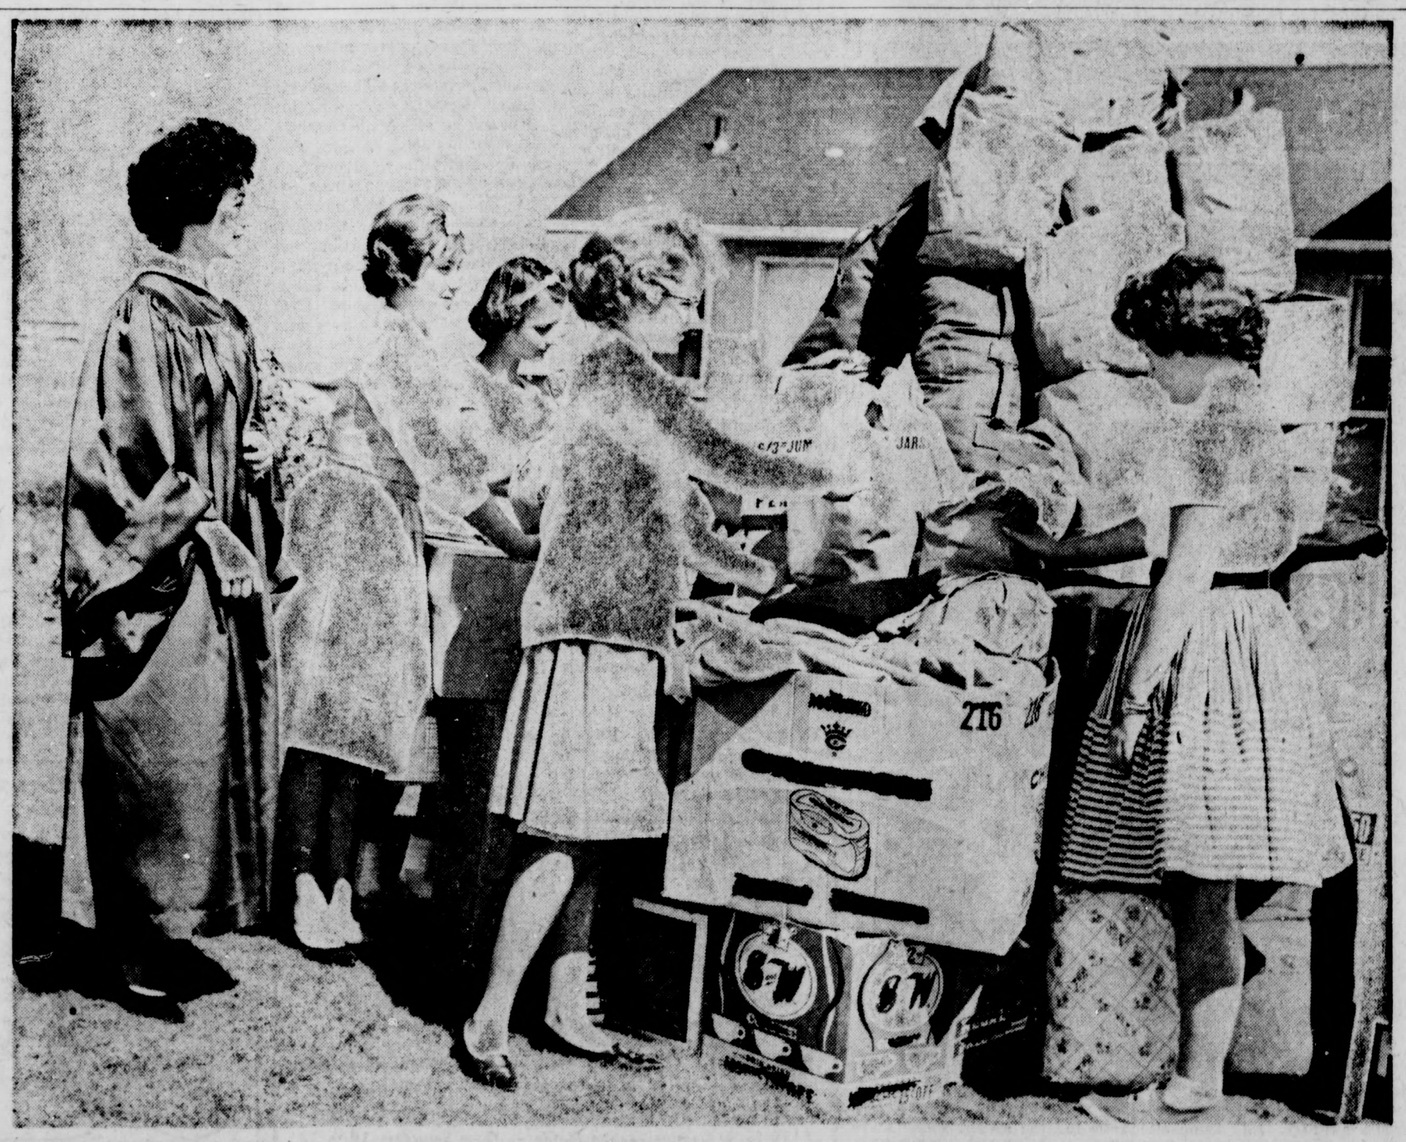
Construction will take place immediately.

Supt. Edward Morgan reported to city manager Edward Frank that if the proposed Christen annexation is developed on 33 foot lots, as opposed to 50 foot lots, the future high school enrollment to a portion of the Jefferson Union High School District would be increased by 50 per cent. If Daly City rules on this land, he said, 1,500 homes could be constructed which would generate 500 high school students.

Henry Doelger, Inc., reported that the area south of Westlake Unit No. 11 (Belcrest avenue) and northwesterly of the Edgemar Freeway is contemplated to come into Daly City and contain 600 single family residences. Construction in this area is planned for 1962 and 1963.

This would make an expected enrollment jump of 200 students at Westmoor and 533 at Oceana.

A progress report at Oceana High School shows the project 80 per cent complete. Terra Nova High School, as of Sept. 30, was 94 per cent complete.



CHAIRMAN SUPERVISES piling up of mountain of clothes gathered in United Clothing appeal to help destitute in foreign lands. Mrs. Helen Reaser, chairman, watches as Peggy Mader, Vickie Warren, LeAnn McGowan and Roseann Yeadon, all of Daly City, stack up gifts gathered for needy people in other countries. It's News To Vets

Q—Following World War II, I filed a claim for disability resulting from a back injury incurred in service. The claim was not allowed then because no record could be found to show that I had been treated in the service for a back injury. Now, after 16 years, a record of my service hospitalization for the back injury has been found. Will my claim be paid retroactively back to the date I filed it?

A—It may be paid retroactively if the claim is allowed. The service connection would be established by the record of your treatment in the service. Your disability will have to be adjudged at least 10 per cent in order to be compensable. And it will have to be shown to exist still and to have existed during the past 16 years. If you have been hospitalized or treated by a physician for your back injury during this period, such evidence will support your claim that the disability has been continuous.

Q—Since I bought a home with a GI loan, my family has increased. I have used my GI loan rights, but is there any way I can get a supplemental GI loan for remodeling my home to provide additional living quarters?

—You may get the loan guaranteed by the VA, if the holder of your present mortgage is willing to make the supplemental loan. Eligible veterans may get VA guaranteed supplemental loans for alterations, repairs or improvements needed to maintain their property or to substantially improve the livability of their home.

Q—I understand it is necessary to direct GI insurance to the proper insurance office. How many VA insurance offices still exist?

A—There are three insurance offices: the Federal Center in Denver, Colorado; the VA Center in St. Paul, Minnesota; and the VA District Office in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

Q—Approximately how many widows of Confederate War veterans are still living?

A—There were approximately 1,200 Confederate widows on VA rolls in June, 1961.

Construction Men To Help United Crusade

Employers and union members of the building and construction trades launched a month-long program of doing extra work for the benefit of the United Crusade of San Mateo County on Tuesday, Oct. 10.

U. R. (Jack) Kendree, chairman of the Crusade's construction division, announced that co-chairmen for the special C-Month program are Sam Abruscato, business manager of Plumbers Union 67, and Irvin Ellenberger, financial secretary of Sheet Metal Workers Union 272, official appointees of the Building and Construction Trades Council.

C-Month is an extension of the C-Day program, originally developed in San Mateo County, whereby workers in the building and construction trades go to their jobs for four extra hours with pay donated to the federated fund. Under the new system, workers will have a longer period of time to put in the Crusade time, Kendree explained.

Participating employers contribute to the Crusade an amount equal to half the total contribution of the employees.

The new C-Month program was developed cooperatively by the employers association and locals of the Building and Construction Trades Council of San Mateo County, and is expected to encourage increased participation in the Crusade drive.

During the past five years, the special work-for-the-Crusade program has been the major support of the construction division on the annual Crusade campaign. This year the division has a total goal of raising $43,443, a 10 per cent increase over the amount raised last year.

Special endorsements and support have been given the program by the San Mateo County Chapter of the National Electrical Contractors Association, Peninsula Painting Contractors Association, Paving and Grading, Associated Plumbing Contractors of San Mateo County, and the Peninsula General Contractors and Builders Association, Inc., and the Associated General Contractors, and the local unions of the Building and Construction Trades Council of San Mateo County.

Save Money By Attending Night School

How can a person save money?

One way would be to attend the South San Francisco Adult School.

The information one can receive from the home and gardening and landscaping class alone, which meets Wednesday from 7:15 to 9:15, could easily save $100 if the same work were to be done by a professional gardener.

The following is an outline of topics to be discussed in the home gardening and landscaping class:

Oct. 12 — Soil improvement: topsoil and subsoil. Weed growth as indicator of soil quality. Drainage. The lettuce method for testing soil fertility.

Oct. 19 — Time for seeding and planting of winter and early spring bloomers.

Oct. 26—The correct naming of garden plants: Relationship of plants by flower and seed characters and only seldom by foliage.

Nov. 2—Manures and fertilizers, I.

Nov. 9—Manures and fertilizers II.

Nov. 16 — Lawn grasses and lawn substitutes.

Nov. 30 — Trees and shrubs usable for a small home garden in our area, I.

Dec. 7—Trees and shrubs for our area, II. Soil preparation, methods of handling, care during late fall.

Mary's Help Hospital Slated To Be Built On 11-Acre Daly City Site Will Cost Nearly $7,600,000

Announcement of plans for the relocation of Mary's Help Hospital, across the San Francisco County line to an 11-acre site in Daly City, was made at a press conference luncheon in the World Trade Club in the Ferry Building.

Host was Michael H. Myers, a member of the Board of Governors composed of prominent local civic leaders who have volunteered their services to assist the Daughters of Charity of St. Vincent de Paul, who have been operating the present Mary's Help Hospital on Guerrero Street since soon after the turn of the Century.

Judge George B. Harris, ranking Judge, Northern California U. S. District Court, is chairman of the Board, and James Cummins, president, Market Street Van & Storage Co., is vice chairman. Ben Swig, prominent San Francisco hotelman and civic leader is chairman of the Finance Committee.

The new hospital project, designed to provide at the start a 250-bed facility in the heart of one of the fastest-growing, and one of the most neglected medical-care areas on the Peninsula, will cost approximately $7,600,000, according to Judge Harris. Roughly half of this amount, he added, will be provided by Hill-Burton funds, a government agency created to assist in the construction of hospitals where the need has been proved by prior exhaustive surveys.

Results of the detailed study were submitted to the State Advisory Hospital Council, and in February of this year the North San Mateo County site was approved. This area, with a current population in excess of 120,000, and growing rapidly, was declared "the No. 1 priority area in California for hospital facilities, with a bed need of 280 general hospital beds."

The 11-acre site is a square-shaped parcel off San Fernando Road in Daly City. It is beautifully situated on a hill north of the Christen Ranch, west of Junipero Serra boulevard, with a commanding view in all directions. It is ideally located to serve the communities of Pacifica, South San Francisco and Daly City, and yet is only 25 minutes travel time from downtown San Francisco. When the new freeways are completed, the new hospital will be at the hub of transportation routes in North San Mateo County.

Sister Hermine, Administrator for Mary's Help Hospital, explained that approximately half of the new hospital's total cost will have to be financed by the Sisters themselves, She estimated, however, the amount to be raised by public subscription would probably exceed $2,000,000, because the hospital corporation has some real estate and other assets which could be used to finance the balance.

It was pointed out by Judge Harris that throughout the years, "with little or no private financial support or endowments, and without fanfare or publicity, these selfless nuns have dedicated themselves to serving the sick, poor and needy, without regard to race or creed or financial status."

"Consequently," he added, "having to maintain such a large out-patient clinic, and having to finance their own nursing school, the Sisters had no opportunity to create a depreciation or new-building fund."

In attendance at the luncheon were the three mayors of the interested North County communities which will be the chief beneficiaries of this modern new hospital. They are Guido J. Rozzi of South San Francisco, Robert St. Clair of Daly City, and Gerry Schumacher of Pacifica.

Some years ago, realizing the inadequacy of proper medical and nursing care facilities in their respective cities, the mayors of these communities got together and formed the "Mayors' Hospital Committee" for exploring ways and means of getting a centrally-located hospital to serve their burgeoning population.

Some time later Dr. Anthony J. J. Rourke, a hospital consultant of national repute, completed a special study for Mary's Help, and reported that the greatest need for hospital services was in the fast-growing area of North San Mateo County. The Sisters had been advised that their present plant at 145 Guerrero Street was fast becoming obsolete, and would have to be vacated within 5 years under recent amendments to the State's Hospital Licensing Act.

Reflecting on her dilemma, Sister Hermine similingly explained it this way: "The coincidence of circumstance—our mandate to move within a given period of time, the "Mayors' Hospital Committee" of Northern San Mateo County, searching for just what we were eager to give, the sympathetic understanding and support of the Most Reverend Archbishop and of our own Management Board, and finally the wonderful assistance rendered by our distinguished Board of Governors, and many other volunteers—all seems the work of Divine Providence."

"By invoking the same Divine Providence," Sister Hermine added, with childlike faith and confidence, "I am sure the people of Northern San Mateo County, as well as our friends across the City-County line in San Francisco whom we have served for so many years, will cherish and support our new hospital as though it was their very own. Wich, in truth, it will be! We want the people of our new hospital area to take personal and collective pride in this beautiful new institution of mercy, and to be able to say and mean, 'this is my hospital.'"

"To make it a successful and going concern, we must have the good will, support and patronage of the medical profession as well as the public at large, and we must maintain a high ratio of bed occupancy in order to meet our obligations and fulfill our responsibility to the community."

Sister Hermine announced that the firm of Stone, Marraccini & Patterson of San Francisco, had been appointed architects, and that a start on schematic drawings will be made after the Hill-Burton meeting in Los Angeles October 18-19. Basic plans at this time call for a general short-term hospital with 250-beds, with provision for expansion to 400 beds and 50 bassinets. It will represent the "last-word" in scientific modern hospital design and facilities.

GEORGE CALEGARI, Guy Guglielmoni and Ralph Hall are planning with fellow parishioners the annual festival of Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church, 80 Wellington avenue which will be held on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, November 3 thru November 5. Many interesting booths are being prepared according to Father Matthew Sullivan, general chairman. Among the booths will be a surprise package, gourmet and goldfish. Fire Station Has Visitors

"My father is a fireman!"—many children proudly claim. Johnny Church, kindergarten Class B, proved his pronouncemen when his class, Abraham Lincoln Elementary School, visited Fire Station No. 5 in Daly City on Tuesday, Oct. 3.

Fireman Lyle Church showed the children around the fire house, demonstrating the equipment, explaining the different hoses, ladders and flashing red lights on the combination ladder and pumper engine. He even donned the high rubber boots, the heavy waterproof coat and the black helmet. Before leaving the station each child had the opportunity to pull the cord that rang the huge bell on the fire truck.

During Fire Prevention Week all four kindergarten classes of Abraham Lincoln Elementary School, 150 children walked from the school down Lincoln avenue to see the big red engines and to hear the siren, the gongs and the bells. Each child was presented with a Junior Fire Marshal ring and badge and a shining red plastic fireman's hat.

On Friday, Oct. 6, the first grade class with their teacher, Mrs. Carole Gillis, visited the fire station. Once again a father, fireman Jack Winters, explained the equipment to his son, Michael Winters, and his admiring classmates.

The California Historical Society, with headquarters at San Francisco, was incorporated in 1886.

NICKEL

Over the years the unusual properties of nickel — particularly its toughness, corrosion-resistance, strength and resistance to axidation at elevated temperatures — have increased its use, and now it is probably one of the most versatile and useful members of the family of metals.

Housewives College At YWCA Now

A "College for Housewives," sponsored by the YWCA of North San Mateo County will begin Oct. 24 at the Westlake Bowl. The college will consist of seven separate classes and each one will be offered in a single 2 hour session on Tuesdays at 10 a.m. Through the cooperation of Bowl Manager Jim Grealish, the nursery will be available for pre-schoolers.

The seven classes include Fashions, Contemporary American Literature, Child and Parent Psychology, Interior Decoration, Gardening and Lawn Care in Suburbia, Suburban Sociology (how to get along with difficult neighbors!) and Social Problems. The tuition fee is .50 per session plus Y membership. Upon successful completion students will be awarded diplomas by the YWCA and will be "Certified Y Wives."

It is important to pre-register for the classes as soon as possible, advises YW Director Elaine Wolfe, so that final arrangements can be made. Call the YW at PL 6-7370 any morning of the week or stop by the office at 375 South Mayfair Daly City. The Y is another United Crusade Agency.

Local Delegates Will Go To Big Jehovah Meeting

Jehovah's Witnesses from Daly City's congregation and 19 other Bay Area congregations will assemble in convention this Friday, Oct. 13, at the San Mateo County fairgrounds. More than 100 from Daly City's congregation will attend the semi-annual circuit convention sponsored by the Watchbower Bible and Tract Society.

H. E. Caseprson, presiding minister, revealed that all classes and meetings of the Witnesses are being discontinued for this week as the entire congregation become delegates to the three-day convention.

Casperson is scheduled to address the convention Sunday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock on the subject "Respect For the Sanctity of Blood."

Lester M. Dugan, traveling representative of the Watchtower Society, has already arrived at the convention site from New York headquarters.

Among local delegates who will attend from the Daly City congregation are Thelma Baron and daughter, Dorine, of 394 Northhaven drive, Daly City; Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Plant and children, 1575 Annie street, Colma; and Mr. and Mrs. John C. Risher, 200 Frankfort street, Daly City.

A special invitation to all Daly City and Colma residents to attend the Sunday public discourse is extended by Casperson. This address, "Uniting Men In a Split Up World" will be given by Dugan at 3 p.m.

Westlake PTA Held First Meet On October 5

The first unit meeting of the Westlake PTA was held Thursday, Oct. 5. A number of parents accepted the invitation to "come and get acquainted" with both the teachers and other parents. James Thompson, principal of Westlake School, introduced his faculty:

Miss D. Campbell, special education; Miss M. Beber, third grade; Miss N. Puccinelli, second grade; Miss D. Nolan, first grade; Mrs. B. Maine, first grade; Miss O. Kowall, kindergarten; Mrs. F. Hjelmstad, fourth grade; Miss E. Johnson, second and third grades; Mrs. E. Spellenberg, fourth and fifth grades; Miss C. Paynter, fifth grade; Mrs. M. Vacain, fifth and sixth grades; Miss G. Bohleen, sixth grade; A. Kerin, fifth grade.

Members of the Educational Center present were also introduced.

Richard Foster, superintendent of the Jefferson Elementary school district had a very interesting message for all. He pointed out that today children need more than ever to learn the basic skills in order to live democratically, that is, to learn to be cooperative rather than competitive under stress. Children should work creatively.

In the past year good progress has been made in the utilization of both personnel and the school buildings. The district hopes soon to have even more instructional materials available to the student. New methods, teaching workshops are imminent; the use of educational TV bringing more reality to the student; a pilot camp program for the sixth grades in the interest of science and conservation.

The idea of making social studies more meaningful and vital, by sending qualified teachers to specific countries for actual observation and study. Foster's message was very enlightening both as to the present and future of the Jefferson Elementary School District.

Miss Kowall's kindergarten class was the winner of the attendance prize for having the most mothers present. A book will be donated to the Westlake school library in their name. While the library has just been opened this term, there are about 2,500 books available for circulation among the students.

The next meeting of the Westlake PTA will be held on Nov. 2 at 1:30 p.m. Robert Evans will discuss the "Community's Role in Civil Defense."

More than a billion gallons of fruit and vegetable juices are consumed in the United States each year.

Donna Turner Smith, Brilliant Young Pianist To Open Peninsula Concert Series Saturday

California's brilliant young pianist, Donna Turner Smith, will open the North Peninsula Concert Association's 1961-62 season at 8:15 p. m. Saturday, Oct. 14, in the Capuchino High School auditorium, San Bruno.

Mrs. Smith has given scores of performances, from Chicago and New York to Los Angeles and San Francisco. Just last July, she appeared with Arthur Fiedler and the San Francisco Symphony in a "sell out" performance at which nearly a thousand people were turned away. According to the music critics, they were most unfortunate not to have heard Mrs, Smith play Dimitri Kabalevsky's bright, snappy second piano concerto.

Donna Turner Smith gave her first public recital at the age of eight and in succeeding years won a number of musical contests and scholarships. She studied at De Paul University, Chicago, under Sergi Tarnowsky; with Muriel Kerr in New York City, and with Alexander Libermann of Mills College. She is now living in Sunnyvale with her husband and her four children.

Members of this concert association will be treated to the rare combination of natural beauty and artistic genius which is certain to make this concert by Donna Turner Smith a memorable one.

Members are also urged to mark their calendars as a reminder to attend outstanding concerts soon to be presented in neighboring communities which offer reciprocity. These include the Pacific Ballet, Mary Costa, Dorothy Warenskjold and the Iglesias Ballet Espanol. The exact dates for the performances may be found on the schedule of concerts included with the tickets which were just recently mailed.

NOTED YOUNG PIANIST, Donna Turner Smith who will open the Peninsula Concert Series this Saturday in San Bruno. Mrs. Smith, perhaps one of the nation's most talented entertainers, has been given some of the highest accolades by leading music critics.

TV and Radio

By MONA BAKER

Almost 200,000 students started back to school last week in the Bay Area's largest classroom. With 92 school districts participating (new districts are joining up each day) KQED's instructional television service began the fourth year of telecasting, bringing a wide variety of courses to students for the nominal sum of 60 cents per student. At a special conference, School Director Raymond L. Smith remarked that he is pleased to find that schools now realize the value of the service and the station finds they have difficulty keeping up with the demand for study guides.

Courses offered during the fall semester include two foreign languages, three science courses, history, two mathematics classes, language arts, music appreciation, current events and special instructional programs for teachers. By the way, an interesting sidelight is that many adults are following the programs—particularly the ones on foreign languages. Also, if you happen to have pre-schoolers in the family, a delightfully entertaining and educational program as well is one on speech titled "Let's Talk," which is telecast Wednesdays at 10:45 a.m. and Fridays at 1:10 p.m.

It has been Daly City time on both television and radio stations during the past couple of weeks, with many local stations saluting Daly City on its 50th anniversary celebration. Also effective community television was the recent telecast of the football game between Westmoor and Jefferson over KGO-TV followed by interviews with student leaders of both schools. Selected as "TV Player of the Week" by four Bay Area metropolitan daily prep writers was quarterback Bob Miller of Jefferson.

500 Parents Visit At Ben Franklin

More than 500 parents of sixth, seventh and eighth grade students at Benjamin Franklin Intermediate visited the school Tuesday night, Oct. 3, for back-to-school night.

Lenord Herbst, principal of Benjamin Franklin, addressed the group briefly at the general meeting in the multi-use room of the school. He told of the steadily increasing enrollment of the district, and called attention of the parents to the new buildings and construction almost under completion.

Parents then proceeded to their child's homeroom where they were given a schedule of classes. Each parent followed the student's program for short periods of ten minutes in each classroom. Teachers were present to discuss the goals of their classes and to talk personally with parents regarding the progress of the children in the early days of the school year.

The evening concluded with refreshments, provided by the Benjamin Franklin PTA.

Students Elect Representatives

Continuing the student representative program which was established as an experiment last year, Westmoor students elected student representatives and alternates from each first period class.

The program was initiated to give the students a more representative voice in student government activities. Student representatives attend the weekly student government executive board meetings. Although they have no voting power, they are encouraged to express their opinions on current issues.

On the day following the meeting, a report is given by the representative to his first period classmates. Five minutes has been allocated for giving these reports to the class and hearing opinions of the class.

Student government activities are under the direction of assistant principal Thanos Panagoulias.

Student Council Elected By Daniel Webster Classmates

Student Council members at Daniel Webster School have been elected by their classmates to represent their class in all matters discussed and to bring suggestions, comments, and criticisms of existing school policies and practices.

The Student Council is designed to give pupils a voice in how their school is run. Many valuable suggestions have been made.

Representatives attend Council meetings once a month and then report back to their own class — discussing new problems, reminding their friends to observe school and classroom rules and asking for their cooperation.

In case of the absence of the regular representative, the alternate takes his place at the meeting.

It is regarded as an honor to be on the Student Council since representatives are elected for their citizenship and leadership qualities. Miss Ruth Lecin, sixth garde teacher, is Student Council adviser and Mr. Weibel, principal, sits in occasionally and serves as consultant.

Student Council representatives and alternates for this year are: Grade 1: John McDaniel, Pamela Eichner, Mitchell Fox, Linda Hirsch. Grade 2: Carla Porter, Raymond Lucchesi, Joanne Carbone, Lori Benson Grades 3, 4, 5, 6: John Owen, Dennis Cronin, Theresa Misterman, Shirley Sowl, Snappy Marlar, Darlene Lewkowitz, Christine Drocco, Barry Munowitch, Dominic Fontana, Barbara Follner, Leslie Brodie and Glen Eastman.

Red Cross Activity Begins At Vista Mar Grades Meeting

Vista Mar students of the second and third grades held an assembly with Mrs. Crary from the San Mateo County Junior Red Cross as speaker. This assembly was held to initiate the Junior Red Cross activities for the coming school year.

The Vista Mar faculty representative for activities is Mrs. Jeane Oberlander, who arranged for a representative from the San Mateo chapter to speak to the boys and girls.

Other student activities are well on their way. With only fourth and fifth grade students in the building, it was decided that sports would need to be confined to "class" activity, and not be enlarged on an intramural basis.

Consequently, practice days have been set up by the faculty staff representative, Mrs. Esther Turcott, as follows:

Monday -- Mrs. Harriet Gels, fifth grade "Falcons," represented by Cathy Cimino and Mike Freeman; Tuesday—Mrs. Frances Lanthier's fourth and fifth, "Lancers," represented by Glenn Phillips and Pamela Sousa; Wednesday—Don Knudsen's "Thunderbirds," represented by Randy Malnick and Robin Stanton; Thursday — Mrs. Esther Turcott's "Rebels," represented by Paul Reynolds and Rebecca Sanchez; and Friday—Mrs. Alice Palmer's "Flying Tigers," represented by Joel Lesser (alternate Kent Spieller) and Dorie Woehl (alternate Barbara Samuelson).

Copies of the "Ten Commandments of Sports" have been reviewed and discussed with each group, since values of a moral and spiritual nature need be derived a swell as the many physical fitness areas involved in the basic physical education program.

Teachers Report Mexican Exchange Rate Is Cause Of Rejoicing By American Tourists

ARTICLE NO. 4
Central American Education
By PARIS B. SIMMONS

The monetary exchange rate in Mexico is currently $1 Mexican to 8 cents U.S. currency, which is a cause of much rejoicing for the North American tourist. When the first exchange takes place, most United States travelers simply hold out the Mexican money to the vendor and hope he will return the correct change. As a result, the first purchase by the tourist may cost him three or four times its actual value.

Bargaining is a Mexican "way of life." In the larger cities it is disappearing slowly with the advent of large department stores, but it is still most noticeable throughout this nation. The Mexican vendor feels that if a person is easily parted from his money, when there is no necessity for it, that the person must be very wealthy and can afford the loss.

Even when it appears that a price of an article is within reason, it is a wise shopper who is not too fast to offer the asking price. In Hermosilla, a pair of Mexican sandals was purchased for the asking price of 24 pesos. Another pair, identical in manufacture, was purchased through bargaining in Guadalajara for only 11 pesos. In Mexico City, the writer was amused when a U.S. traveler proudly displayed two puppets he had purchased from a street peddler at the asking price of 48 pesos. The tourist was not amused when the writer showed him two of the same type puppets obtained for 12 pesos from a street vendor. The Mexican businessman does not feel he is cheating in obtaining the highest possible price for his merchandise. He considers, in such an instance, that he has outsmarted the customer and is therefore entitled to the profit so willingly paid.

Should a price be offered by a seller, and the customer offers another which is lower, but immediately accepted by the seller, the customer may be quite certain that he did not bid low enough.

For those anticipating a journey into this wonderful country, a good rule of the thumb would be to offer approximately one-third of the asking price of any article, raising his original bid as the seller drops his price. When the buyer reaches the point where he wishes to bid no higher, he should say "no" and walk away. If there is any possibility of profit for the merchant, he will allow the customer to travel several yards and then whistle or yell for him to come back, which is an agreement to the sale at the last price offered by the buyer.

Another "Way of Life" in Mexico is the market places. These are in existence in all the villages and cities. Some, as in Guadalajara, are very well kept and appear most sanitary. Others are apt not to be too inviting to the general tourist. In these, flies abound amid a variety of odors. This is due to the food, including meats, being openly displayed, and the lack of refrigeration. The market place allows the Mexican farmer the opportunity to sell his product direct to the consumer without the added cost of the middleman. For many, it is the only means of livelihood. It also offers consumable foods at a price that can be paid by the poorer citizens.

There exists in every city of any size a civic center or square. These are located in the center of town and cover an area of approximately a full city block. Situated in the center of the square is a bandstand, surrounded by attractive gardens, with numerous benches. Street peddlers are always present selling such delicacies as cold watermelon, pineapple, ices, and a type of ice cream. The artificial flavoring of the ices is stronger than in the U.S. In the evening, or late afternoon, it is the custom for the young folk to take over the square and stroll around it with their friends, always on the lookout for romance. The young ladies are chaperoned either by a group of other young ladies, or relatives.

In each of the larger cities, it is amazing to find that there is always a guide who appears on the scene, willing, ready and able to assist the tourist. They are particularly happy to bargain for the visitor and to accompany the visitor on shopping tours. The tourist has the idea that the guide will receive payment for his service according to his generosity. This is not quite so. Most guides steer their charges to stores where they have agreements, which result in their receiving 10 per cent commission on every sale. The best insurance for tourists in the matter of hiring guides is first to determine the price of service. Second, request identification, for the Mexican Government recognizes that the tourist trade is its first major source of income, and wishes to protect the visitor from unscrupulous guides. The traveler should also take advantage of the Tourist Bureau Service in the major cities. This organization is set up to provide all types of information, along with suggested tours, activities, etc., to make one's visit most pleasurable.

Junk Mailing Plan Attacked

"Mailing without addressing was formerly allowed business firms and it became such a problem that it was eliminated," Younger asserted, "and now to give it as a special privilege to Congressmen is unfair. I shall not utilize it."

Podocarpus — Pine That's Not A Pine

They call it a Yew Pine, and at first glance the shoe would seem to fit. But look more closely and you'll find the Podocarpus is neither Yew nor Pine. It merely looks like a cross between the two.

There's merit aplenty in such looks, however, as the gardener who owns a Yew Pine will soon find out. The Yew's columnar shape is there, but its strict formality is tempered by the long narrow leaves which lend the soft, informal texture of a pine tree. You get informal formality, so to speak—a friendly sentinel to place beside your door or in a tub on the deck.

Tubbing this pine that's not a pine is fast becoming a common practice with California gardeners. The California Association of Nurserymen reports that a high number of people who buy Yew Pine through member nurseries also buy a container to pot it up in. If you follow the practice, use an acid soil mix—preferably with leaf mold liberally mixed in—and plant the young shrub at the same level it enjoyed in the nursery can.

As to exposure, the Yew Pine seems to prefar part shade to a full sun which is apt to burn the tender, light green new growth. It can be seen on some northside porches where it never sees the sun—seemingly the picture of contentment. More light than such an exposure offers will probably encourage more robust plants.

The Yew Pine's first cousin—another Podocarpus called Fern Pine—is taller and more tree-like than the Yew Pine. In open ground plantings it grows some 40 feet tall—an attractive small tree with undulating foliage that bends gracefully with the slightest breeze. It, too, carries a high rating from C.A.N. nurserymen.

There's still another member of the family worth mentioning—a close match for the columnar Yew Pine, but more compact and with a bit more of the Yew's formality. Like the Yew Pine, it is suited to tubs or can be grown against a wall, so long as the wall doesn't catch full sun through the hottest hours. Ask your nurseryman for the Maki Yew Pine. He'll know what you mean.

Dr. Dohemann is an instructor of a math methods course which is part of teacher training.

The students were divided into two groups, so that they could experience a live classroom situation in a first and second grade.

One group visited Mrs. Georgina Nyhan's second grade to observe her lesson in which she introduced the use of the equation. The solution of the unknown factor not only gave the children the satisfaction of accomplishment but helped to extend their basic concepts of number families.

In the meantime, the other group visited a first grade classroom, where Mrs. Phyllis McMillan conducted a lesson demonstrating grouping from one to three and introduced the number four.

This gave the students the opportunity to actually see an everyday teaching situation and also to observe the reaction of the children.

Plan To Split Phone Book Is Nixed By CPU

Plans to split the San Mateo County telephone directory into three parts were blasted this week when the California Public Utilities Commission turned down the application of the Pacific Telephone Company.

"The public, as a whole, would suffer serious disadvantages from splitting the directory" the commission ruled. "The most serious would be that directory service to the typical subscriber would be diminished."

The commission also ruled that boundary lines for the proposed split of the directory were "largely arbitrary" and that they would inflict additional difficulties and expense on some advertisers in the directory.

Westmoor Parking Lot Design Switched

Westmoor High School's parking lot has a "new look." The idea for the new parking arrangement was conceived by Mr. George Chrestionson, auto mechanics instructor. The design was executed by George Simon, mechanical drawing instructor.

Supervision of the lot is the responsibility of the Automotive Safety Club which is under the direction of Mr. Chrestionson. Members conduct a semester safety check program during which student's cars are checked. If the student's car passes the safety check. the student is given a reserved parking space in the lot.

In addition to conducting the check, members supervise the parking lot daily. They may issue violations for improper parking or for parking an unchecked car in the lot. Violators are given a warning for the first offense. The second time they may lose their parking privileges for two weeks, while persistent offenders may lose privileges for the semester.

Peg Allmond and Jack McKay will drop in after their Friday night classes — and nobody needs to be told they are the tops in square dance callers. SPORTS

Westmoor In Cross Country Practice Meet

Westmoor competed recently at San Carlos against San Carlos, Cubberly and Woodside Priory in its second cross-country practice meet.

The Ram team took a third place in varsity and edged ahead of San Carlos for a second place in the junior varsity race. San Carlos won the varsity while Cubberly of Palo Alto emerged the victor in the junior varsity event.

A newcomer to Westmoor's cross-country team, sophomore Dennis Tracy, shows much promise for a prominent place in the varsity for this year. Last year he placed first in "C" class track for the 600 yard run at Menlo Atherton. He ran a 10:03 at the meet which gave him first place for Wesmoor and fourth place in the meet.

Westmoor's first three men, Dennis Tracy, Brandt Larsen, and Ken Rau, placed fourth, sixth and eighth, respectively, with the times of 10:03, 10:11 and 10:28. While the two others, Ed Raymond and Mark Clark, placed 13th and 14th, respectively, giving Westmoor a total of 45 points. San Carlos was first with 35 points as lowest point total wins.

The two top junior varsity men were John Behrman and Chad Reade, who ran 11:03 for third place and 11:14 for sixth place, respectively, at yesterday's four-way meet.

Bob Beukers was the fifth man in the Frosh-Soph race with the respectable time of 11:17. With only three instead of five men finishing, Westmoor automatically placed last.

Fernando Kids Play Football

The opening games of boys' intramural touch football proved to be full of thrills and excitement.

The Tigers kicked off to the Rams Sept. 27 at Fernando Rivera Elementary and during the first down, Ray Mathes attempted a 10 yard pass to Jerry Lanthier.

On the third down, Ricky Piercy ran for 11 yards. Later, with the Rams on the defense, Jerry Lanthier intercepted a pass thrown by Tiger Ted Hunsperger. Again a pass was intercepted, this time by Tom Gernhardt of the Tigers.

With the Tigers on the defense again, Ted Hunsperger ran a nine yard gain. Rams held the Tigers. Ray Mathes received the punted ball but was touched within 5 seconds.

During the last few minutes of play, Frank Chong of the Tigers caught a long pass from Ted Hunsperger. Actually the pass was caught while Frank Chong was literally off the ground, as he jumped for the ball to prevent it being knocked down by the Rams' fullback. The whistle blew just after Frank Chong had intercepted a Rams pass. Score: Tigers 2, Rams 0. Meanwhile, the fifth grade Bobcats ran over the Beavers, 41-0.

All four teams showed remarkable touch football skills and sportsmanship behavior. Upon the conclusion of all required games a championship series will be played. The winning team of each league will receive a Jefferson Elementary School District award signed by Superintendent Foster.

The "A" league consists of the five sixth grade classes. The "B" league consists of the three fifth grade classes. Team room numbers and team names are as follows:

"A" League: Room 8—Hawks, Capt. Steve Bach. Room 9—Rams, Capt. Ray Mathes. Room 10—Wildcats, Capt. Louis Matteucci. Room 11—Panthers, Capt. Earl Payton. Room 12—Tigers, Capt. John Van Liew.

"B" League: Room 4—Pythons, Capt. Richard Karp. Room 5—Bobcats, Capt. Joel Carrara. Room 7—Cheeths, Capt. Stephen Silen.

RAMS SPLIT HOOP OPENER

Rams 110 and 120 hoopsters opened their league season with a split against Burlingame on Oct. 4. Ram 110's took the opener, 32-20, while the Ram 120's were defeated, 30-27.

From the time Jim Fair opened the scoring with a long set shot, the 110's led. Fourteen of Westmoor's 16 first half points were scored by Jim Fair and Joaquin Andrade. Fair was high point man with 12, followed by Andrade with 8, and Rich Pagano and Mike Land who had 6 each.

Westmoor's 120's, leading 17-9 at half-time, couldn't contain Burlingame's shooters in the second half and fell prey to the Panthers, 30-27.

Co-high scorers for Westmoor were Perry and Price with 7 points each. Orlich and Carilli had 4, Hannigan had 3, and Colangelo had 2.

Westmoor Loses 7-6 In Close Football Match

In a closely fought defensive battle, Burlingame defeated Westmoor, 7-6, with a closing seconds 61-yard scoring march.

Margin of victory was the Panthers' ability to cash in on the extra point following their touchdown.

The Rams had the first scoring opportunity of the game in the first quarter when Burlingame fumbled on their own 40 and the Rams recovered. Ten plays later, the Rams were on the 4 with a fourth down. Mike Barich slammed over the middle but was stopped just short of the goal and Burlingame took over. This was Westmoor's only serious first half threat.

In the third period, Westmoor finally got on the scoreboard on a 52 yard scoring march following a Burlingame punt. With a third down on the 19, Funai passed 16 yards to end Steve Schmuck and Westmoor was in business. The ball was moved back to the 8 on an illegal procedure penalty, but on second down, Funai passed for the touchdown to right end Gary Allard. The conversion failed and the score stood 6-0.

The ball changed hands several times in the final period until with less than three minutes left, Burlingame took over on their own 39. Quarterback Bill Walsh faded back and threw 57 yards to end Hence Wallace, who was rolled down at the Ram 5. On the next play, halfback Fred Hawley cut around his own left end for the six points. The conversion was good and the score stood 7-6.

Mike DeBernardi returned the kickoff to the Westmoor 38. Funai then saw his pass intercepted by defensive back George Theisen and the Panthers ran out the clock.

Indians Pulverize Terra Nova Tigers

Jefferson High School made mincemeat out of a green Terra Nova football squad, 31-7, last Friday to snap a two-game losing streak.

It was Jefferson's chance to flex its offensive muscles and they did it with a steady string of touchdowns, four of which were made by speedster halfback Sam Ennon. He scored three times in the first quarter.

Sam had his big day as he galloped left and right around the Terra Nova team. He scored within the first five minutes of the first quarter on a pass from quarterback Bob Miller. The pass caught Ennon at the Terra Nova 30 as he stepped ahead of the Tiger secondary defense and kept on going.

The Jeff squad has an open date this Friday.

Terra Nova carried the ball for a few plays, but quickly punted and Ennon criss-crossed the field to take the ball from halfback John Garadis on the punt, then galloped 40 fast yards for another touchdown in the first quarter, but the play was called back on a penalty. Quarterback Miller dropped a pass on top of John Marino for the 19-0 tally.

HIT PAYDIRT

Terra Nova hit paydirt in the second quarter after a seven-play sustained drive from their 28 yard line. Quarterback Don Katona dove off right tackle for the score and passed to Dennis Caruthers for the extra point and the 27-7 tally.

Jefferson's High School band whooped it up with "Old Notre Dame" and the "Victors" marches at half time, with precision drill.

ENNON AGAIN

In the third quarter, Jefferson put on a sustained drive that brought them down to Terra Nova's 16 yard line on six plays. Then Miller passed and Ennon caught it over his right shoulder and galloped into the end zone. The kick was no good for the 31-7 final tally.

Jefferson's coach Joe McGrath put in his second team for the remainder of the game and this squad was an even match for Terra Nova. It was a see-saw battle as the Jeff second and third stringers eked out small yardage but held Terra Nova scoreless for the rest of the fourth period.

Westmoor Wins Cross-Country Match Vs. Mills

Westmoor won its first league cross-country meet against Mills on Thursday. Both the varsity and the junior varsity Rams won their first league race.

The best time of the meet was 10:33, run by Mouer of Mills. Pickerell of Westmoor took second at 10:36 while being closely trailed by Bradford of Mills, who ran 10:40. The next four places of the race were Westmoor's, which gave the Rams the victory of 24 to Mills' 33.

Westmoor's frosh-soph team was deafeated. However, this didn't change the Rams' attitude toward the meet. The junior varsity came against Mills with Chad Reade and John Behrman who took first and second places, respectively, having only two opponents from Mills separate them from the three other Westmoor men. This led the Rams to another victory, 21 to 37.

Chad Reade, who teams with Behrman, has shown himself to be quite a cross-country man. He was Westmoor's first place "B" high hurdler as a sophomore. John Behrman has only been at Westmoor since the second semester of last year and thus has a very short record. He managed varsity track last year and decided to run himself when cross-country season started. As it has turned out, he and Chad are almost a perfect match for distance running and have been alternating their places with each other for the past few meets.

Vista Mar Kids Are Fire Alert

The week of Oct. 9 to 13 is being motivated at Vista Mar for the city — Fire Prevention Week. Prior to this time boys and girls have been preparing to understand the full meaning of this week, as well as having test fire drills.

Children in grades three to five at the school have had the added advantage to enter the Fire Prevention Art Contest sponsored by the Fire Prevention Bureau of the Daly City Fire Department.

Many of the classrooms have murals made by the children depicting fire fighting equipment and burning buildings.

Other primary classes have scheduled study trips to the Westlake fire house, where they will see how the firemen live while on duty, how the alarm is transmitted to the station, and learn first hand about the different engines and their use.

The display cabinet in the school's courtyard has a number of thought provoking slogans cleverly organized and presented by members of Mrs. Frances Lanthier's fourth and fifth grades and Don Knudsen's third and fourth grades.

Also, proudly hanging in one corner of the display case is the Junior Fire Marshal Fire Prevention Achievement Award for 1961.
